Dear Program Director,

The most popular Lamplighter book of all time comes to life! Teddy's Button is the story of a precocious boy clinging to the only thing left he has to remember his father: a button from his army uniform, when he was killed in war.

Teddy loves to captivate any audience with colorful tales of his father's heroics...that is, until he meets his nemesis, Nancy. She doesn't believe Teddy's stories at all. But Teddy soon discovers his greatest enemy is not Nancy, but...well, you're about to find out!

In all our years of working with children actors, these are some of the best we've ever directed--Hugo Docking as Teddy and Dominique Drew as Nancy. They make this beloved story sparkle with humor and compelling drama.

With a built-in fan base for the book, this story will be a strong draw for your Listeners.

We're astounded by God's favor on Lamplighter Theatre and the countless testimonies coming from our listeners. We thank you for your continued faithfulness as part of the Lamplighter family. We're well aware that Lamplighter Theatre couldn't happen without your prayers and support for the program.

It's a blessing to be on this journey with you!

Blessings ahead,

The Lamplighter Theatre Team

On Air Liners

Teddy's Button, Part 1

This week on Lamplighter Theatre, it's Teddy's Button—from the most popular Lamplighter book of all time.

[(Optional paragraph) Wait till you meet Teddy—one of the most lovable “all boy” boys you’ll ever meet. Teddy loves to tell stories—and his friends love to hear them. The best stories of all are about his father, who died in war.]

Teddy's most precious possession is one button from his father's uniform. But now Teddy faces a new nemesis—a girl whose father is in the navy. She doesn't believe a word of Teddy's stories.

When Teddy and Nancy face off on a footbridge—well, you'll have to tune in to find out more!

This week, turn off the TV and turn on your imagination. With Lamplighter Theatre.
